

A sepia-toned photograph of a forest with bare trees reflected in a body of water. The trees are thin and leafless, with their branches creating a complex pattern against the light sky. The water is calm, creating a clear reflection of the trees above. The overall mood is quiet and somewhat somber.

END TIMES

JOHN M. WILLIAMS